Introduction

A coffin lining can be a way to add a personal touch. You can supply your own photographs and images for a unique personalised coffin lining that reflects a person's life through their passions, hobbies or even their favourite country or religion. We'll work with the design team to create something perfect for you. Designs are printed onto a white satin base fabric and the design is printed, and heat pressed directly to fabric.

The Design to Frill Process

From when the design is approved, it is printed onto heat transfer paper onto a large roll.

This is then taken to the heat press which transfers over the print to fabric. After the design is successfully printed onto fabric with a quality check. It is then transferred to the laser cutter. This then laser cuts lines with precision and heat seals the edges, then is sent over to the lace department, adding on the finishing lace to the top and bottom, then is folded with one last quality check and is packaged and ready to go!
